

AngelEye Health Recognized as a 2025 Inc. Power Partner Award Winner

Honored for its innovation, customer success, and commitment to hospital partners across the U.S.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 4, 2025 – AngelEye Health, a leader in neonatal and pediatric solutions, is honored to announce its inclusion in Inc. Power Partner Awards. The prestigious list recognizes B2B firms that power organizations through exceptional service, innovation, and customer satisfaction.

AngelEye Health joins this year’s honorees for its dedication to helping hospitals deliver more connected, compassionate care across neonatal and pediatric units.

As an Inc. Power Partner, AngelEye earned recognition through a process that weights verified client feedback alongside Inc.’s editorial research and sentiment analysis, which provides independent validation that the company helps hospital leaders run, scale, and optimize operations. For prospective partners, the designation signals a trusted, high-performing provider and further differentiates AngelEye in neonatal and pediatric care technology.

“We’re deeply proud to be recognized among this leading group of B2B organizations,” said Christopher Rand, CEO of AngelEye Health. “Our mission has always been to equip care teams and hospital partners with tools that enhance family engagement, optimize workflows, and strengthen trust. Being named an Inc. Power Partner validates the hard work and partnership ethos of our entire team and, most importantly, the confidence of the hospitals and families we serve.”

Trusted by hospitals nationwide, AngelEye Health’s technology drives measurable improvements in clinical communication, family engagement, and patient experience. With a 97% client retention rate and a 4.8-star mobile app rating from more than 4,500 reviewers as of October 2025, the company continues to set the standard for innovation, responsive support, and performance in high-acuity care environments.

“At AngelEye Health, partnership is at the heart of everything we do. Our goal has always been to help hospitals strengthen their family connections while improving efficiency and outcomes,” said Luann Jones, DNP, RN, NE-BC, ANLC-N, Vice President of Customer Experience at AngelEye Health. “This recognition from Inc. validates our mission and the work our teams do every day to support our hospital partners.”

For families with infants in neonatal and pediatric intensive care units, AngelEye provides a vital connection during one of the most challenging experiences of their lives. Families have collectively logged more than 1 million viewing hours through the AngelEye platform, spending an average of 25 minutes per day staying virtually connected to their babies’ care. This engagement not only reduces anxiety and emotional stress but also fosters stronger trust and communication between families and clinical teams. With AngelEye now serving more than 20% of NICU families across its growing hospital network, the platform continues to redefine how healthcare systems support family-centered care, transforming distance into connection and uncertainty into comfort.

AngelEye's platform, including its NICU bedside camera system, feeding management, discharge navigation, and AI-enhanced analytics, has been adopted by over 350 hospitals. The company's recent achievements, including its Inc. 5000 Fastest-Growing Companies ranking and SOC 2 Type 2 certification, underscore its commitment to security, reliability, and scalability.

Powered by this recognition, AngelEye plans to elevate its partner support, expand clinical integrations, and accelerate innovation across its product suite to further enhance the neonatal and pediatric care experience for staff and families. The company also looks forward to deepening collaboration with hospital systems, clinicians, and families to deliver measurable improvements in outcomes, safety, and the overall patient experience.
