Pulse

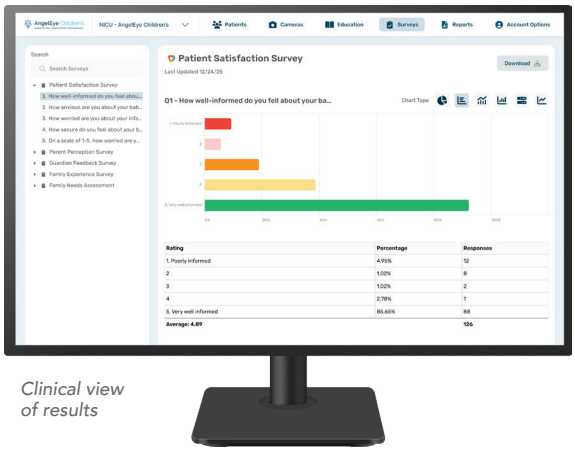

An Insight Tool Providing Actionable Trends for Leaders and Clear Priorities for Teams

The families who most need support aren't always present when you make rounds. Pulse captures family needs in real time through automated, quick check-ins and validated assessments, and flags concerns early so teams can prioritize outreach to families who need support the most.

Comprehensive Survey and Insight Tool:

- Without IT complexity, integrates seamlessly with all of your current AngelEye solutions.
- Well-suited for psychosocial screening, family needs assessments and discharge readiness.
- Supports multi-question surveys or quick one question check-ins, translated in 70+ languages.
- Survey responses are structured with flags to support risk identification and guide timely action.
- For teams, it reveals patterns often invisible in day-to-day operations, from trends in family stress, discharge readiness, communication gaps and overall experience, providing clear signals where attention is needed most.

Pulse provides a more proactive approach to family engagement – one that improves the accuracy of feedback, reduces missed signals, and enables teams to respond earlier and more effectively.
