

An Insight Tool Providing Actionable Trends for Leaders and Clear Priorities for Teams

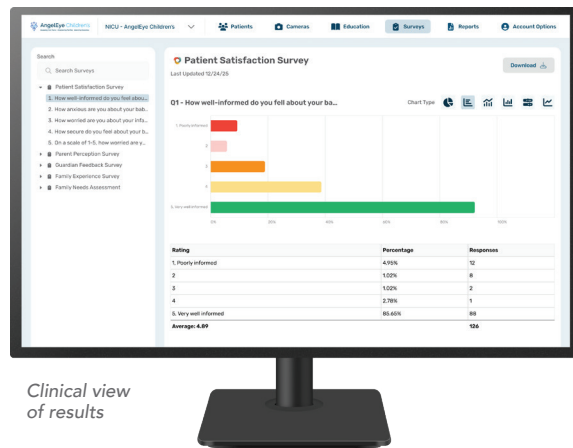

Family Survey example

The families who most need support aren't always present when you make rounds. Pulse captures family feedback in real time through automated, quick check-ins and validated assessments, and flags needs early so teams can prioritize outreach and service recovery.

Comprehensive Survey and Insight Tool:

- Without IT complexity, integrates seamlessly with all of your current AngelEye solutions.
- Well-suited for family needs assessments, discharge readiness, and psychosocial screening.
- Supports multi-question surveys or quick one question check-ins, translated in 70+ languages.
- Survey responses are structured with flags to support risk identification and guide timely service recovery.
- For teams, it reveals patterns often invisible in day-to-day operations, from trends in family stress, discharge readiness, communication gaps and overall experience, providing clear signals where attention is needed most.

Pulse provides a more proactive approach to family engagement – one that improves the accuracy of feedback, reduces missed signals, and enables teams to respond earlier and more effectively.
