AngelEye Health Earns Fifth Consecutive Inc. 5000 Recognition

Nashville-based neonatal and pediatric digital health company ranks No. 1907 overall, No. 213 in Health Services, and 43 in Tennessee, placing it in the top 38 percent of America's fastest-growing private companies.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Aug. 11, 2026 – AngelEye Health, a leader in neonatal and pediatric digital solutions, today announced it has been named to the 2026 Inc. 5000, ranking 1907 overall, placing it in the top 38 percent of America's fastest-growing private companies. AngelEye Health's continued investment in innovation, customer success, and clinical impact is reflected in its 2026 rankings. Building on its 2025 performance, AngelEye Health achieved significant year-over-year gains in the 2026 rankings, including a 32% improvement in its overall national ranking. The company also improved its Tennessee ranking by 40%, advanced 21% among Health Services companies nationwide, and climbed 38% among Nashville-based companies. The year-over-year gains demonstrate sustained growth and increasing market leadership as the company expands its platform, partnerships, and family-integrated care capabilities across NICU and complex pediatric care environments in hospitals and health systems nationwide and globally.

Throughout 2026, AngelEye has continued to build on the momentum of its $9 million Series C funding round, secured at the end of 2025. Since then, the company has accelerated product innovation, expanded its commercial footprint, and advanced its mission to transform neonatal and pediatric inpatient units into intelligent, connected environments optimized for care delivery, efficiency, and family empowerment. The investment has supported AngelEye's evolution from a trusted family engagement platform into a more comprehensive digital NICU and complex pediatric care partner, helping hospitals connect care teams and families through secure livestream video, feeding management, discharge readiness, AI-driven insight, and psychosocial support.

"Earning a place on the Inc. 5000 for a fifth consecutive year is a meaningful reflection of how AngelEye continues to grow with purpose," said Christopher Rand, CEO of AngelEye Health. "The past year has been about turning investment into impact, whether through new partnerships, expanded platform capabilities, or bringing more support to families and care teams across the NICU and pediatric care journey. Our growth is ultimately measured by how well we help hospitals create more connected, informed, and confident experiences for families during some of life's most vulnerable moments."

AngelEye's growth has also been reflected in key milestones across its platform and community impact. The company announced a strategic collaboration with the University of California Health Milk Bank to support safer donor milk labeling, acquired the SupportSpot platform from Child Life On Call to expand psychosocial support for pediatric patients and families, and saw its real-world impact reflected in its use by seven of the top 10 U.S. News & World Report-ranked NICUs.

Today, AngelEye partners with more than 400 hospitals, serving approximately 20% of NICU families across the U.S. As adoption of its platform continues to grow, the company remains focused on expanding connected, EHR-integrated solutions that support safer feeding workflows, stronger family engagement, more efficient discharge preparation, and earlier insight for care teams.
